As a terrorist, Arafat should never enjoy American diplomatic protection.

Let's leverage the momentum of American justice. President Bush saw the connection between America's security and the liberation of Afghans and Iraqis. Now, we pray that he will no longer allow the United States to tolerate Palestinian terror. After repeated aggression from its neighbors, in defense, Israel took Gaza from Egypt, the West Bank from Jordan, and the Golan from Syria. Israel took no land from a Palestinian state, for no such state existed; nor was there a Palestinian currency, king, or constitution. Yet, to live in peace, Israel offered to give Palestinians virtually all the land they have asked for. Refusing that offer, Arafat launched a new wave of terror, funding it as Palestinian Authority documents reveal. Every time America has negotiated with terrorists, like Arafat, we have reinforced terrorist motivations. The Iraqis had praised their own leaders, yet needed liberation from them; so too with the Palestinians.
