Real Science Radio joins Creation Evolution Talks on Pepperdine Campus

The 2014 Bible Lectures presented a big bang and evolutionary worldview. So alumnus Dr. Vern Bissell organized an independent event for this Friday, May 8th, 2015 in the Villa Graziadio's Rm EC115 from 3–8 pm to present the alternative creation worldview.

NASA claims that confirmed predictions of the big bang validate the theory but does that claim hold up to scrutiny? If you search online for: big bang predictions, you'll see that Google ranks our article #1, at kgov.com/big-bang.

If you assume that virtually all science-educated scholars, MDs, and PhDs reject intelligent design, you've probably never seen our list of the tens of thousands who reject secular Darwinism and believe in some form of creation, at kgov.com/scholars-doubting-darwin.

If you've not heard of the greatest paleontology discovery in history, you might want to Google three words, or just check out: kgov.com/dinosaur-soft-tissue.

If you're wondering how original dinosaur tissue, as published in journals like Nature and Science, from triceratops, T. rex, and hadrosaurs, can remain soft over the eons since their extinction, you may not have seen kgov.com/list-of-not-so-old-things.

You're invited to hear Bob Enyart of Real Science Radio at 3 p.m. tomorrow and then other great speakers and videos until 8 p.m. For more info, see kgov.com/pepperdine.
